

X-FIRE "Technical perfection"

The new X-fires Ltd are the new Rrd racing machines and have reached such a high level of shape definition and technology level that is hard to find anything coming even close. This combined with a high attention to comfort and graphical details puts the X-fire at a clear distance from the opposition. Maybe catch them if you can!

The X-FIRE LTD features new details developed to reach the top in performances and comfort, with only one target in mind: to be the first to cross the finishing line!

The tail features new recesses with improved area and edges and deeper step tail. The tail width is narrower and middle outlines are wider.

One of the peculiar features of this new X-Fire is the Concave Deck on the nose area, developed to allow a lower sail centre moving forward the mastfoot. That in combination with the scoopline gives more planning attitude with bigger sails and more control in windy and choppy conditions.

The hull configuration is full double concave on a single V rail to rail.

X-Fire are equipped with the best G10 CNC fins on the market: the X-Fire 145 and 130 have Maui Fin Company G10 CNC Racing fins. Lower volume boards are equipped with Maui Fin Company G10 Slalom fins, with more rake than racing fins and a tighter chord, to boost top speed and the best handiness.

New Exclusive Deluxe Ergonomic Pads, designed to give the best comfort during long full speed broad and downwind reach. Result: The new X-fires simply beat all records: performance, finishing and comfortable ride. The fastest boards in our line also become more comfortable for an extended top performance.
